

Important Information Regarding Dispensation from the Insurance Obligation as a Student

Effect of dispensation:

For the duration of your studies, you will remain privately insured, even if:

1. the premiums rise
2. claims to aids cease
3. illnesses arise
4. a family insurance policy would become available, free of charge, within the scope of statutory insurance, through a parent or spouse at a later time.

This dispensation applies towards every statutory health insurance company and is irrevocable.

Missing previous periods of coverage in statutory health insurance prevent access to statutory insurance after your studies if, for example, you:

1. become self-employed
2. require Unemployment Benefit II.
